SUMMARY

I am a third-year student pursuing a Bachelor of Technology (BTech) degree in Computer Science and Engineering. My knowledge and expertise in Operating Systems (OS), Networking, and Command Line Interface (CLI) are substantial. Additionally, I actively engage in contributing to open-source projects on a periodic basis. Presently, I am involved in the development/understanding of Wine and concurrently working on the creation of my portfolio website

PERSONAL PROJECTS

Dotfiles

- Managing my own desktop machines running Nobara Linux through the use of Git.
- Useful configurations accumulated over time.
- Hosted my configuration on Github, so that other people can use and contribute to it.

Data Visualisation using Python

- Develop a this project which also served as a minor project in my University.
